Ambassador Wilson Wires That Americans Flock to City of Mexico for Safety

MEXICAN BATTLE ON U. S. GROUND IS NOW FEARED

Troops and Mutinous Rurales May Clash in El Paso—Ojinaga Besieged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—U. S. Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City telegraphs the State Department that the revolt is spreading, and that Americans from the interior are flocking to the capital for protection. The rebels control the railroads and telegraph lines north of Monterey. War Department officials admit that orders have been given to be prepared to send the state militia to the border to reinforce the regulars. The order has not yet been issued, but is awaiting General Wood's signature.

The governors of the various states have been requested to inform the department of the number of militiamen they are able to furnish, who will be available on instant call. Replies are expected tomorrow.

MADERO ASKED MEXICAN CONGRESS FOR ASSISTANCE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—Stirred by the rebellion in Northern Mexico, President Madero yesterday asked the permanent committee of congress for permission to call a session of the National Senate, from which the president desires authority to communicate with the American government relative to sending troops through United States territory to enter Chihuahua from the north.

President Madero told the committee conditions were such as to make it impossible to aid the rebel infested region without great delay unless such routing of troops was permitted. The result is that a regiment is going across Texas today and will move from Juarez to the south.

The committee also considered yesterday the petition of a group of deputies who asked that a special session of congress be called to consider the best means of coping with the growing revolt.

GREAT YEAR IS ON FOR CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS

STOCKTON, Feb. 9.—F. B. McKevitt, manager of the California Fruit Distributors, and one of the best informed men on the fruit industry in the state, has just returned from the East. He is very optimistic regarding the coming crop, and declares the eastern markets will make great demands this year on California fruit.

"The demand for California fruit is increasing rapidly," he said. "Last year we opened at least fifty new markets for carload lots. Besides, many dealers in small cities are going to auction for our fruit. In addition, rate reductions have been granted. The reduction to the South will make it possible for us to place probably several hundred cars where we were not able to send fruit formerly. And many more small centers will be opened in 1912. The packing of grapes in sawdust has been a very successful venture. This opens a new market on several hundred cars of California grapes, though some educational work will be necessary to create the demand. The grapes are now taking the America grape for winner. Growers must be careful to pack only their best grapes and encourage the trade."

Roosevelt Far In The Lead In Register's Straw Vote

If it was left to those who participated in the Register's straw vote to decide who should be the next president of the United States, it would be Theodore Roosevelt.

Here is the result of the vote as polled:
First choice — Roosevelt, 166; La Follette, 30; Taft, 10.

Second choice — Roosevelt, 24; La Follette, 80; Taft, 34; Bryan, 2; Hughes, 6; Johnson, 2; Garfield, 4; Cummins, 20; Hitchcock, 2;

In many instances two or more members of a family voted, and nearly always it was found that they voted very much for the same men.

In one instance, the husband voted for Roosevelt as first choice and Garfield second choice, while the wife made Roosevelt first and second choice, first, last and nothing else.

The marines were landed only to protect property. Today's dispatches telling of the trouble occupied several days in transmission and the present status of affairs is not known. The State Department is endeavoring to establish communication with the scene of action.

CALIFORNIA MUST AVOID CONFLICT

Either La Follette or Roosevelt Must be Eliminated From Ticket

IF NOT, TAFT DELEGATES WILL GO TO CONVENTION

So Asserts Lieut.-Gov. Wallace—Progressives Hoping for Roosevelt Statement

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9.—If the names of Roosevelt and La Follette both appear on the Republican ticket at the May primaries, a Taft delegation will go to the national convention, according to the belief of Acting Governor Wallace. Wallace said today:

"The nomination and defeat of Taft would be a staggering blow to the progressive movement. In California and a dozen other progressive states, many progressive Republicans would vote for the Republican candidate, but many would be made Democrats, never to return." Wallace stated that he hopes for the elimination of either La Follette or Roosevelt, adding that he believed the Wisconsin Senator to be "one of the men who do not get what they deserve."

A BRIDGE AT SEVENTEENTH

Plan Underway That Will Result in Getting Much Needed Structure

Steps are being taken that will undoubtedly lead to the building of a bridge across the Santa Ana river at Seventeenth street. The plan is to utilize the good timbers and steel left over from the Fifth street bridge, which is to be replaced with a concrete bridge.

It is proposed to straighten West Seventeenth street by securing a right-of-way through the Maybury tract. This can probably be done at a nominal cost as it will be a benefit to the ranch. The bridge itself is on county territory. The river at that point is quite narrow, and a good bridge will be built.

BIG THINGS IN FULLERTON FIELD

Santa Fe Oil Co. One of the First to Drill in Now
Great Section

AMALGAMATED IN HARD SAND ROCK

Company in Which Water Company Has Interest Has Fine Prospect

FULLERTON, Feb. 9.—In the Fullerton field the office of the Santa Fe Oil Company, which has occupied one site for many years, is to be moved to make way for a new structure. The Santa Fe was one of the first to drill in this territory, and got its first oil for fuel use on the Santa Fe road there. The company has annually added to its output and by the same token to its earnings by the increased development. Its revenue at the present time is very large.

The Industrial Oil Company has determined upon further development work in the locality for the Coyote Hills. The well it has been sinking on these holdings for the past two years, and which has encountered much bad luck, will be continued and a new one drilled. The site has been examined by experts, who believe that development work will bring good results. Material is now on the ground for the new rig.

The Amalgamated Oil Company's No. 3 well is at present in a sand rock that for hardness has seldom been equaled in the Fullerton field. This formation causes the work to progress very slowly, but it is the expectation that when the hard sand is penetrated the work will be testing the Amalgamated's holdings at depth. It has plenty of oil sand for a good producer, but it expects to secure much better results by going from 100 to 200 feet deeper.

The company reports that the oil indications are excellent at the No. 5 well, and the probability is very strong for a good producing well at any time now. The No. 4 well, which is being held in, is producing from 1500 to 1600 barrels a day and there are no indications of a let-up in the pressure. It is believed that if allowed to go at its best this well would spout forth 7000 or 8000 barrels a day. The bringing in of No. 4 well caused something of an uproar among the stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water Company, which owns the land and leases to the Amalgamated Oil Company.

The water company is building a pipe line for the purpose of handling its one-eighth royalty oil received from the Amalgamated, and it is understood that this product has been sold to the Kellogg Oil Company, which does a large marketing business.

STEELWORK OF NEW SUGAR PLANT TO GO UP RAPIDLY

In the next two or three weeks the Dyer Company will commence putting up the steel for the Santa Ana Co-operative sugar company plant. The foundation work has been completed by the sub-contractor, Weymouth Crowell of Los Angeles, and the Dyer Co. is installing some of the machinery. The boilers for the plant are now almost completely installed.

From now on the showing of progress will be more noticeable, for machinery will be installed rapidly.

and the framework will be put in place.

The steelwork of the warehouse is almost finished. The contract for this building was let to C. McNeill of Santa Ana by the sugar company, and McNeill sublet the contract for the steel work to the Baker Iron Works of Los Angeles.

The Dyer company has M. D. Gilman as superintendent and E. J. Whitson as master mechanic. These men were employed together last year in the construction of a sugar plant at Elsinore, Utah.

ORANGE CONTINUES TO PUSH FORWARD

Orange Post: The Ainsworth Lumber Company is erecting a modern six-room bungalow on their lot at the corner of Grand street and Palm avenue. James Nickel has the contract.

Frank Sutherland is building a cottage in the Hopkins tract on North Cleveland street. N. U. Potter is doing the work.

Mrs. Connors is having a neat five-room cottage built on her lot on North Shaffer street between Palm and Maple avenues.

GEO. A. Wright of Lindsay was in town for three days last week, leaving for his home on Sunday. While here he and Walter Helwig completed a partnership to start a planing mill at Lindsay. Mr. Wright was formerly a resident of Orange and came here on business and pleasure, stopping with his parents while in town. His principal business was to buy machinery for the planing mill. The new firm purchased two small machines of the Ainsworth Lumber Company which had been replaced by larger ones. Mr. Wright is enthusiastic over the future of Lindsay, and is starting the first mill for that place.

Mrs. Lotta B. Gitchell has just finished remodeling the interior of her stationery store, and has put in an entire new set of furniture and shelving, counters and show cases, and otherwise made noticeable changes in the arrangement of her lines of goods. With the able assistance of Miss Bernice Camfield she is better prepared to serve the public than ever before. This is one more point in evidence that Orange is moving forward as a commercial center.

USE OF DYNAMITE WAS DEMONSTRATED

About 100 ranchers were present yesterday at the dynamite demonstrations held on the Dunstan and Dr. Adams ranches northeast of Santa Ana. The operators showed how the explosive can be used to loosen the earth. Charges placed on each side of an orange tree loosened the earth about the roots in a manner bound to do the trees good. A big stump was blown out of the ground and lifted clear over a telephone wire. A big tree was blown up, showing how the explosive does cheaply and quickly what would take men with axes several hours to accomplish. The demonstration was in charge of the Dupont representatives.

THE BUNGALOW HAD ITS ORIGIN IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles Examiner: In the winter of 1900-1901 a dweller in Los Angeles, better endowed with artistic perception than financial resources, built him a home, low and rambling, with unsurfaced lumber for the outside finish, the frame resting on mudsills, the roof of shaks, and the interior walls covered with burlap in lieu of plaster, says the Building and Industrial News. Its lines pleased him; its economy of cost satisfied him and for the purpose of a residence it answered his every need in that semi-tropical land. Some adaptive genius, seeing a fanciful resemblance to the officers' quarters in faraway India, in this improvement upon the temporary shack which lot owners, at that time, were permitted to erect upon their property while building their permanent residence, christened it a "Bungalow." No one then thought that this new creation was anything but a make-shift, to be superseded by a "real" house as soon as the pecuniary circumstances of the owner would enable him to do so.

In fact, when others sought to imitate it, the owners of the new additions treated such structures as infringements upon their building restrictions in the matter of cost, and attempted in many instances to prevent their erection on their tracts. The term "bungalow" until 1904-1905 was treated as a name indicative of poor and cheap construction—an unplastered, inexpensively finished residence of the cheapest materials.

The term "bungalow" as a name became fixed, though its resemblance to the original Indian structure of that name is far-fetched and imaginative; it is purely of California origin, a spontaneous evolution from the impetuous lot owner's shack, brought forth and made possible by the wonderful climate of that land of sunshine, and its habitat was thought to be restricted to that state. Not so, however. As built in California, it is ill adapted to protect its occupant from the rigors of a more trying climate. But the visitors to the south took home with them the plans of those bungalows which pleased their fancy, and had their architects model their new homes on the strange lines of the new-fangled house design, adapting the construction to the requirements of the climate of their own locality. These found the bungalow to be all that could be desired in a moderate priced house. Others, and not a few, used the plans as they bought them, and at the first experience of cold and storm, raised their voices in lamentation that a bungalow might be a good summer home, but that it could not be heated in winter.

The popularity of the bungalow as a comfortable type of home at any season, when properly built, has not shown any sign of waning, but on the contrary, both architects and owners have sought to outdo one another in artistic conception and execution of this truly new American style of domestic architecture, for in every line and every feature it is distinctly American—and Western at that. Only its name belies it. Its originators never saw, perhaps never heard of a bungalow, but were influenced by the lines of the homes of the Spanish first settlers. It is more properly a development of the rancho of the early California, or the more pretentious adobe residence of the prosperous hacienda, that existed in California before the division of the vast landed estates under the Spanish grants.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one away to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness, and success. Yet, right here in Santa Ana, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break, and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grows hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial, and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Wheeler and Mateer Drug Company, 104 West Fourth.

REAL ESTATE KEEPS ACTIVE

Deals All Over the County—

Demand for Small Orchard Property

The title companies are finding this a busy season. The realty market governs activities in those companies to a large extent. Just at present the activities in the title companies shows how great is the activity in the realty market.

Deals are being made all over the county. Ranches of five, ten and fifteen acres seem to be in great demand. Real estate men say that the inquiry for that kind of property was never better.

Here in Santa Ana the sale of lots for building purposes keeps up at a pace that speaks well for the amount of building that will be done here in the next few months. Blocks in which there were three or four vacant lots are rapidly closing up and showing a solidly built frontage.

In the Wakeham tract, recently opened, four houses are under course of construction at the present time. One of the best local deals of the last week was the sale of ten acres of walnuts on West Washington avenue by W. H. Zimmerman to a man recently arriving from McMinnville, Ore.

During the week the D. F. Barrett ten-acre walnut ranch on North Bristol street, was sold to J. B. Record, of this city, for $10,000. Part of the consideration was Mr. Record's seven-room dwelling and three lots on West Fourth street, for $4000. The deals were negotiated by Schooley & Schenck, of 504 North Main street.

BIG TRIPLE VOTE OFFER CLOSES ONE WEEK FROM TOMORROW

Several Candidates Now in the Lower Ranks are Rapidly Advancing Toward the Roll of Honor Aspirants.

The candidates in the Register's contest who have entered the Roll OF HONOR will have plenty of company before many hours pass away. Candidates from all sections are becoming more active as the contest progresses and the skirmish will be at fever heat before the TRIPLE VOTE OFFER closes Saturday night, February the 17th.

Now then, candidates, crack the whip at every corner and turn of the road and bring your chariot under the wire on the last day of this TRIPLE VOTE OFFER with a rush that will start a capital "V" on the word "VICTORY" at the final counting of the ballots. Crack the whip with a snap that will echo and re-echo to the very limit of the county, let every one know you intend to win, but the all important question which confronts you is votes, and that the all important time to roll up a pile of them is NOW while you can get three for one. Don't go at it half-hearted and above all don't be timid. The timid politician's heaviest competitor in the time of election is the hustler. Boldness is to be deplored, but timidity is to be pitied. Self-assurance is the happy medium and the very mark of success, even from the cradle to the General on the field of battle. The child, whose self-assurance prompts it to walk will be running about the house, while the child who is equally able, lacks confidence, will still be hanging onto the arm-chair. There are more than a score of women in this county who "could" if they "would." Everyone in this county knows that some one of you is going to get that E-M-F Touring Car, and they know also that someone is going to ask for their subscriptions. They have a preference as to who to give their subscriptions to, but they are not going to come up and beg you to take down their names on your receipt book. Eight out of ten of your friends are already subscribers and if they are not they will be willingly if you ask them to. Now, if you are too timid to ask what they would willingly give you, your shyness will just cost you the E-M-F Touring Car or one of the other valuable prizes.

CALIFORNIA ARTIST FOUND

Wallace Robinson Suffers From Concussion of the Brain—Cause Unknown

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Wallace Robinson, the illustrator, who disappeared from his wife and friends a week ago last Monday, is at home again under the care of a physician.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

BUYS AN E-M-F "30" CAR

William Jennings Bryan went shopping for an automobile at the New York show and followed the crowd to the Studebaker exhibition. He wanted an E-M-F "30" coupe, with a special-built body, capable of seating four persons. With Leigh B. Lynch of the Studebaker factory staff, the one-time hope of Democracy went into session on specifications, price and other details.

Lynch assured Mr. Bryan that a special-built body of the sort he wanted could be fitted to the standard E-M-F "30" chassis. He told him that, in all probability, the increased load of the Bryan type of body would call for no change in the chassis except, perhaps, a lowering of gear ratios.

"By the way," inquired Mr. Bryan, "what should be the car's low gear ratio?"

"Well," replied Lynch thoughtfully, "the proper low gear for your car should be I would say, about 16 to 1."

At the mention of these cabalistic figures, the ghost of a smile flitted across Mr. Bryan's face. Lynch's jaw dropped as he grasped the lingual tumble he had taken.

"Sixteen to one, eh?" quoted Mr. Bryan; "well, I guess that will be about right."

Ever since the show Lynch has been the object of unmerciful joking at the hands of his comrades in the show squad, all of whom maintain that, had he been really tactful, he would have followed the 16 to 1 break with another, offering to cover every exposed metal part of the body with a coating of free silver, if Mr. Bryan should approve.

BILLIKENS TEAM WELL TO FRONT

"Oh, you Billikens!"

Last night the McBurneys were supposed to play the Electrics, but owing to sickness the Electrics could not appear and so a team was picked up in the alleys and called the Billikens. Thus the match was started.

The McBurneys grabbed the first game by a majority of five, and the second by 54. Then the Billikens grin, which never wore off, came up strong with the third game by 47 points, the fourth game by ten and the last game was not even close, the winners scoring 109 more points than the McBurneys.

High score for last night was carried off by Fay Wright, his score being 229, and Eddie Fahey carried off high average honors with an average of 202.

This makes the third series of five games that the McBurneys have lost.

The high score for the ladies' prize this week is 194 and for the men's 265.

LEE ELECTED FOR METZGAR

Apricot Growers to Hold Meeting at City Hall Next Monday Afternoon

At a meeting of the directors of the Orange County Dried Fruit Association yesterday, J. C. Metzgar, who was elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, resigned as secretary of the association. The resignation was accepted, to take effect next Tuesday.

The dried fruit men elected Harry Lee to take Metzgar's place as secretary. Lee has been the association's packing-house foreman. Lee's place as foreman was filled by the election of his brother, Chester, to the position. Chester Lee has been foreman of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association plant.

The directors called a meeting of growers for next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the city hall. The purpose of the meeting is to hear Metzgar's report of his investigation of market conditions in the East. Metzgar visited many cities and made minute inquiry into the dried fruit situation.

The association reports that it is shipping some of its dried apricots.

ELECT JAMES CITY ENGINEER

Santa Monica Man to Get Huntington Beach Municipal Job

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Thomas H. James, formerly city engineer of Santa Monica, will be elected city engineer of Huntington Beach by the city trustees at a meeting to be held next Saturday evening for that purpose. Mr. James will be in charge of the building of the concrete pier at the foot of Main street, a work that is expected will be begun this spring.

Of the four hundred and twenty-one votes cast here last Wednesday in the pier bonds election, it is ascertained that fully one-half of the voters were women, who at that election cast their first ballot. The speed and ease with which they voted was a surprise to the men.

The stockholders of the Pacific Utilities Corporation, owners of the peat fuel works here, met this week and re-elected the old officers, except the vice-president, M. E. Helme of this city, being chosen for that position.

A tentative offer for the establishment of a paper factory in Huntington Beach has been made, and the conditions under which the plant is to be erected will be complied with by the local Board of Trade, supported by the unanimous sentiment of the people of this city. It is probable that the factory will be located at the northern end of the city.

H. B. Little has been elected assistant cashier of the First National and Huntington Beach Savings banks. The election was made by the unanimous vote of the directors of both institutions.

The contract for installing the Steffens system of removing sugar from sugar beets at the Holly sugar factory here has been let to Carl Leonard of Los Angeles, and work on the new system will be begun this month. Some of the material is already on the ground.

Purity in Pastry means

Hogs are not cleanly—hog fat is always under suspicion—and lard is nothing more or less than hog fat.

Cottolene as a frying and shortening medium is just as far ahead of butter or lard as the automobile is in advance of the bicycle, or electric light preferable to gas.

Cottolene is a vegetable shortening—made from pure, refined cotton oil. It may cost a little more per pound—but you need to use only two-thirds as much. It is better and more economical.

OF THAT OPINION

The Anaheim Gazette joins in the protest against the scheme that someone propounded the gist of which scheme was that Congressman Needham or Congressman Smith should move to this district that this district might elect him to congress. The Gazette says:

"Isn't it time to forget about this nonsense of inviting Smith or Needham to carpet-bag it into the new Eleventh district, and stand for the congressional nomination? Is the district so poor in material that necessity exists for this unheard of thing? Let those sapient editors who take up time chewing the rag about it forget it once and for all.

"If we remember aright, Smith had the race of his life in the primaries two summers ago. A gentleman of the name of Kirby of San Diego stampeded things generally down this way, and had it not been for the support of Smith's home county and one or two other sections which supported him strongly, he would have been defeated. To ask that he move into the new district is folly, and to request the same of Needham is to make ourselves ridiculous.

"At that we have a score or more of prospective candidates already with probably more to follow. The district has the material for a congressman in great abundance, and it seems to have a plenty of candidates as well. It will not be necessary to ask either Smith or Needham to come to our assistance, greatly as we esteem their statesmanlike qualities.

EAST AND WEST MEET

From the Riverside Enterprise

Oh East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet, Till Earth and Sky stand presently at God's great Judgment Seat; But there is neither East nor West, Border, nor Breed, nor Birth, When two strong men stand face to face, tho' they came from the ends of the earth.

They stood face to face a few days ago in New York. Roosevelt and Johnson. The governor of California and the former president. They are friends; they are much alike. Their differences are of environment, of habit, of occupation. But they are the breed that counts in America today. They are unafraid, genuine, democratic. They typify the most forward political thought in America. Johnson has gone further than Roosevelt because he has been in an atmosphere of freedom. Roosevelt has had to struggle with the chains of custom in the effete east. Johnson is of the boundless west.

Roosevelt struck the first blow at money rule in America. He took the people into his confidence and won their esteem. He ended for all time the regime which culminated with McKinley, of Wall street's absolute domination over political matters. Wall street still has a large hand in them. The senators and congressmen, cabinet officers and officials who are the servants of the Street, do their best for their employers, but the eyes of the people are open to what is going on.

Roosevelt opened them. Until his time their was rottenness in every department of the government. Roosevelt was the first president since Lincoln who was his own master. He began a new dynasty in the White House—one which must lead ultimately to the return of power to the people.

Johnson in California did as much. What Roosevelt achieved nationally, Johnson has done in this state. He drove from office the Southern Pacific, which had for decades blighted with graft and bossism the entire state. He established new and lofty standard of politics. He gave back to the voters the control of their government of California responsible to the wishes of the dwellers in the land. He routed the horde of thieves who have infested the state institutions, and set the seal of California on honesty and efficiency.

Roosevelt and Johnson! Their names sound well. Their characters are bold, plain, square.

Value of the Y.M.C.A.

Speech of W. A. Zimmerman at the Y. M. C. A. Banquet—Published by Request.

The young men of the Y.M.C.A., or the promoters of their interests, must have dropped onto the old adage that "The way to a man's heart (which, by the way has a synonym in the word "pocket-book") is through his stomach." So they have dined us sumptuously tonight, and now they offer us an opportunity to express ourselves in behalf of the work that is very dear to their hearts.

This may be taking undue advantage of us; but the cause will justify the means employed to get us out, so I capitulate on their terms, and will say and do whatever I can to help along the good work.

In regard to the subject assigned me, I was under the impression that I was to address a few of the young men on any topic I wished, but late yesterday evening, Mr. Hamilton looked into my office for a moment and said that I was assigned to "How would a Y.M.C.A. Help the Business Men and the Boys of our Town?" so I had my work all to do over again, but am willing to do this and am also willing to face this brilliant crowd of representative citizens, knowing that they are much interested in the work or they would not be here.

I am inclined to think I should turn the text around just a little, and say, "How would a Y.M.C.A. help the boys and business men?" for until it helps the boys and young men, its effect on the business men would not be so noticeable.

In my judgment, next to our churches and schools, the Y.M.C.A. can and should be a most potent factor for good character building; and in planning our future as a community and as a county, and an integral part of a great state, and still greater nation, we must not overlook any point that would tend toward giving us better character and a higher degree of manhood, which spells in big letters, "BETTER CITIZENSHIP." This is much desired; yes, even required, if we expect to advance or even hold our place in the race for position in the future.

We cannot expect to maintain a high standard of citizenship unless we maintain the standard of our material. I want you to get that last sentence, as it is a kind of pet theory of mine that we cannot expect to maintain a high standard of citizenship unless we maintain the standard of our material. We want our young men to have the very best opportunity to make the most out of themselves that is possible. Therefore, it is going to be up to us right soon to do something substantial looking toward a Y.M.C.A. institution, building and all.

We, as citizens of Santa Ana, did ourselves proud recently in voting the poly high school bonds, although some of us members of the advisory committee have received a few slaps on the location of the site for same.

We have a goodly supply of churches, well equipped and well pastored (I said pastored, not pastured), yet there is a work between these two, and also a work covering a field that neither of these two, the church or high school, reach, which the Y.M.C.A. seems just especially created to cover. It is such a wonderful power of uplifting and bettering our young men that we cannot overestimate its lasting influence. I do not happen to have any young men in my immediate family, but I have two sons-in-law growing up somewhere in this vicinity, quite likely, and I want them to have the benefit of a Y.M.C.A. if possible.

The Y.M.C.A. not only teaches the young men many, many good things that they should know, but keeps them from learning many bad ones, and forming bad habits. Bad habits! Oh, so many useful lives are ruined by bad habits, bad companions, wrong associations, at a time in their lives when good associations, proper environment and companions count so much.

Let me tell you a short story about my fox terrier pup, "Doc." Not that I wish to compare the boys with my pup, but to illustrate my point. Doc was a bright, level-headed, good natured puppy, and soon grew to be a fine specimen of fox terrier doghood—no bad habits, loved his fellow dogs, was tractable, and a worker. But he finally fell in with a neighboring cur, whose battle-scarred face showed that he had been a participant in many a scrimmage. It was not very long until the old dog undertook to administer corporal punishment to the younger, which resulted in a little bloodshed before we could get them separated. In a few days, the same thing was repeated; and the third time they came together, Doc had learned the leg-hold trick and had gotten a taste of blood, and, after thoroughly thrashing his teacher, had made up his mind that he was from now on a full-fledged scrapper. He would fight anything, big dog, little dog, friend or foe. Sunday or week day, it made no difference to Doc. He was laid up in the dog hospital about half the time for repairs, and soon became so annoying and troublesome that I was obliged to give him away in order to keep from being accused of promoting dog fighting—all from bad associations. Do you get that point? Bad associations. I mean his associations, not mine.

The Y.M.C.A. does not attract bad and vicious characters, except for the very few of those who wish to get the advantage of better influences and live a better life.

In addition to the moral, intellectual and religious training, we find also the opportunities for proper physical, trade and business development, all of which, coupled with good character, which, after all, is the chief asset of the young man, make up the whole that the progressive business men of today absolutely require when selecting young men for their employ who may be their future partners or successors in the business that they have spent years in building up. We can condone minor faults and look over occasional errors and put up with some lack of physical strength; but no brilliancy of any kind can take the place of real character.

If the Y.M.C.A. will help to develop character, we want it. There is no need to guess at results, accomplished by the Young Men's Christian Associations. We have the proof to show anyone who is from Missouri that it will do it, so let's boost. The business men of today have to keep on the lookout all the time for ability coupled with character to keep the heads of their departments filled, so they do and should gladly welcome an opportunity to do something for the good work.

Before I sit down I want to say to you that I was once a country lad with a good job in a big railroad town, Galesburg, Illinois, but thanks to the Y.M.C.A. and the churches, the saloons and gambling houses never got one dollar of my earnings, and the Y.M.C.A. helped me to so live that I was able to always look my dear mother squarely in the eye and receive the home-coming kiss without a blush of shame.

That was a quarter of a century ago, yet I never have forgotten, nor never have a desire to forget, the associations and the associates met in our Y.M.C.A. work there; and the old familiar hymns like "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," have cheered me in many a lonely hour.

RHODES IS ELECTED ITS NEW SECRETARY

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—The Orange Chamber of Commerce directors organized last night by electing L. M. Hartwick president; F. A. Blake, vice-president; W. D. Granger, treasurer; U. D. Rhodes, secretary. The new executive officer, Rhodes, is secretary of the Building & Loan Association.

CONSTIPATION

FRUIT GROWERS CAUSE IS BEFORE COMMERCE COURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Representing the Southern California fruit growers, William Lamb declared before the Commerce Court that the transcontinental railroads' boosted rates to the California lemon growers after the passage of the Payne law so the roads might gobble whatever benefit the growers might gain through the higher duty on the foreign product. He demanded that the court refuse to enjoin the Interstate Commerce Commission from reducing rates, as the roads are trying to compel the court to do.

F. C. Willard for the railroads opposed Lamb, declaring that the Interstate Commerce Commission acted arbitrarily, in prescribing lower rates after the Commerce Court had once declared against them. He urged the tribunal to maintain its stand.

WILL AID WOMEN

Ebell Parliamentary Section Now Organizing to Aid in Universal Suffrage

The Parliamentary Section of the Ebell Club held an exceptionally interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geo. S. Smith.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Lawton, was the adoption of the constitution and by-laws of an enterprise undertaken at the previous meeting, to be known as The Woman's Suffrage Association for the advancement of woman's suffrage in all the possessions of the United States. The committee appointed for that purpose, Mrs. Marks, chairman, presented their report, which was then considered serially, and after numerous amendments the constitution and by-laws were adopted as a whole.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the further intent of the organization, to be presented to them at the next meeting. In order that those on the waiting list may have the benefit of these lessons, the membership was extended to thirty.

Engagement Announced

Someone whose love for us seen more or less questionable, has started the interesting rumor that the Conservatory does not give full time to its pupils.

We will give a nice long term of lessons to anyone who will verify this statement.

On the contrary we are guilty of too frequently giving overtime which results in delayed schedules and, occasionally, inconvenient waits to the pupils who come later in the day.

Besides, we arrange leeway time between lessons so each student is assured of his full time, and the same.

When pupils are tardy they can hardly expect their full time, but even in such cases we almost invariably make up this loss later.

Blessed are they that are knocked for verily they shall be boosted.

GRAND MASTER WELCOMED

Odd Fellows Greeted State Head of Order—Affair Ended With Banquet

The Odd Fellows of Santa Ana and other cities of the county had a gala time last night when they greeted the state grand master of the order, George S. Hudson of Stockton. 250 Odd Fellows from all sections of the county gathered here to welcome the distinguished visitor.

A signal honor was conferred on the Veteran Odd Fellows, those who have belonged to the order for twenty years or more, by having them exemplified the degree work. Their exemplification was fine and elicited enthusiastic approval. A banquet at midnight ended the auspicious event.

Another banquet of five courses had been prepared for Grand Master Hudson at noon in the Dragon Ballroom, where a table was bountifully spread amidst decorations of white and pink carnations. Covers were laid for six, including the reception committee and the expected guest. But owing to unexpected detention, Mr. Hudson was unable to be present. Ralph Mead, who is said to strongly resemble the Odd Fellows leader, was asked to fill the vacant place, so the meal went merrily on. Those around the table were Geo. E. Peters, J. E. Liebig, R. S. Dickinson, J. F. Beswick, W. W. Chandler and Ralph Mead.

Frances Willard Meeting

This next meeting of the Garden Grove Y. P. B. will be at the home of Miss Helen Schneider this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This will be a Frances Willard Memorial meeting. A silver offering will be taken for the Willard Memorial fund. To those giving 25 cents or more a good photo of Miss Frances Willard will be presented. Every one is invited to attend this meeting and to be sure and take something for the collection.

Canton Ladies Entertained

Mesdames Frank Adams, Paul Anderson and A. E. Bird were hostesses yesterday afternoon to the ladies of the Canton. At the conclusion of the business session, during which necessary business was transacted, the hostesses invited the ladies to be their guests at the Dragon where delicious refreshments were served.

The entire afternoon was most enjoyable to the twenty-five ladies present, and will not soon be forgotten.

Hares Lose Son

The Santa Ana friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Hare will be grieved to know of the death of their little son, Lloyd Malcolm Hare, aged eight years and ten months. The child was buried in Ventura. A recent notice of the death by the Register stated incorrectly that the child was a daughter.

HOUSE WARMING

Banquet Marked Opening of New Parish House—Farewell to the Wottons

The newly completed parish house of the Church of the Messiah was the scene last night of a joyful house warming, saddened only by the intense regret felt at the approaching departure of the rector, W. H. Wotton and his family, who leave the first of March for South Pasadena, where Mr. Wotton is to be rector of St. James.

After the banquet the affair was in a measure turned into a farewell to the Wottons, who were presented with some very substantial evidences of the high regard in which they are held by the people of the parish.

Mrs. Waffle, who was among the speakers, gave an interesting account of the growth of the church since her arrival here over thirty years ago, when, as she said, the whole congregation often consisted of the rector, the organist and herself. Several others spoke briefly, among them Mrs. James S. Rice, who, in a few gracious words of God's grace, proved that the gift of song is not the only one bestowed upon her.

An informal musicale followed. Tom Wotton, who was given a fine violin to aid him in remembering his Santa Ana friends, proved its power of melody in a solo, with Mrs. Padham accompanying. There were duets by Mrs. Rice and Mr. Wotton, a violin solo by Mr. James Willis Rice, and at everybody's request, Mr. James S. Rice gave his ever-popular whistling accompaniment to Mrs. Rice's singing of "The Mocking Bird."

Next Monday evening, from eight until ten, the people of the parish will be given the opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Wotton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Rice in Tustin.

Juvenile Party

Little Miss Dorothy May Grant was four years old yesterday, and the birthday event was signalized by a party for her and a few of her child friends at the Grant home at 433 East First street. Merry games kept the little ones amused through the afternoon, and finally fruit salad and candy and a lovely birthday cake made the hearts of the children glad.

The children who helped Dorothy May celebrate the day of her nativity were Merle and Jean Wilson, Jean Lois Winslow, Ruth Bartlett, Pauline Carnahan, Wilma Carter, Mabel Miller, Eva McNeill, Elizabeth Baker, Virgil and Mildred Read, Marguerite Roberts, Porlia Kreiger.

Clover Club

Hostess Dr. Chapline of Orange, was hostess yesterday afternoon at the Clover Club, of which both Orange and Santa Ana ladies are members, and in honor of the merry season of St. Valentine she decorated her home with his symbols, Cupids and hearts. In addition to these insignia of sentiment, there were baskets of glowing red geraniums.

All too soon did the afternoon pass as the ladies chatted and plied their fingers busily with dainty fancy work. A prettily appointed two-course luncheon was served by the hostess before the departure of the guests, the Valentine scheme of decoration being used for the table. The home of Mrs. H. H. Hill, 215 South Sycamore, Santa Ana, was announced as the next meeting place.

Those present yesterday besides the hostess were Mesdames T. B. Elliott, Frank Eckley, Frank Miller, E. D. Johnson, E. A. Bell, H. H. Hill of Santa Ana; Park, Syester, Knight of Orange.

THIRTY DAYS FOR A THEFT OF SHOES

Huntington Beach News: While waiting on two Mexicans Friday morning, a clerk at Gail's dry goods store on Main street noticed that one of them had taken a pair of shoes and concealed them under his coat. When accused of taking them, the Mexican ran to Walnut avenue but was caught and brought back to the store by Joseph Caldwell, a bystander who saw him run from the store. He dropped the shoes as he ran. A companion who was in the store with the thief was also arrested by Marshal Sorenson but was afterwards released. Juan Martinez, the Mexican who stole the shoes, was jailed by the marshal, but early in the afternoon was taken before Justice J. W. Shirley, where he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail at Santa Ana. He was taken there Saturday by an officer. The commission of the crime, the apprehension of the criminal, his plea and sentence consumed only about two hours.

CASCARETS FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently But Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep

That Awful Sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

AMUSEMENTS

"The White Sister"

The drama is one of the most powerful methods of presenting a problem or a lesson no matter how difficult. Few people retain more than a memory of a book perused. The lesson it carries for a time interests the mind, then only too soon it slips back into some far recess of the memory and only an effort recalls it to mind. Not so with the drama. The lesson presented becomes a part and parcel of nine out of ten who witness the play. Back again and again comes memories to impress the lesson. A twilight sky, a whisper, the roll of an organ, sight and sound bridge the span of years and draw memories out of their recesses, thus marking deeper the lesson instilled by the drama.

Perhaps that is why dramas that deal with religious themes always draw packed houses. It may be partly from curiosity, for that is one of the strongest of human motives but largely it is because most of us want to be good. We want a lesson and are hoping each day for some thing that will change us, for few of us have the physical strength to bring about the change unaided.

Whatever the reason, "The White Sister," which is to be presented at the Grand Opera House Saturday evening, has drawn packed houses; wherever it has been presented. "The White Sister" was dramatized from F. Marion Crawford's novel of the same name and nothing has been lost in its transfer to the stage. It is semi-religious in character, dealing as it does with one of the most beautiful precepts of the Catholic religion. It is a romance pure and simple revealing powerful conflict of emotions of the soul and body thereby offering a remarkable opportunity for acting of the highest and most interesting quality.

Miss Jeanette Towler, who has the leading role in this play of love and duty, is known as one of the most beautiful women on the American stage. Her work as "The White Sister" is said by many to surpass Miss Viola Allen, who created the role. Miss Towler brings out all the pathos and beauty of this magnificent character, bringing home the lesson of duty nobly done. She is supported by a remarkably strong company.

Spurgeon's Hall

Not yet do all the people of Santa Ana appreciate the rare opportunity offered them in the Dorn-Harold Ros entertainment at Spurgeon's Hall this evening.

Lily Dorn, although well known to music lovers in Europe, made her first appearance in America at the New York Hippodrome only three years ago, singing the prima donna roles in grand opera.

She produces a cosmopolitan program wonderful for its versatility and delightful to her hearers.

A co-artist is found in Ignaz Haroldi violinist, who has had the extreme honor of being engaged four different times as soloist with the Berlin Philharmonic Society; has made two tours of the United States, and is considered one of the best modern violinists.

Gertrude Ross, pianist, is a composer of merit, a most talented accompanist, and a soloist whose work is exceedingly welcome.

This trio has recently appeared in Stockton, Sacramento and Riverside, meeting with most enthusiastic success.

FIRM FOUNDATION

Nothing Can Undermine It in Santa Ana

People are sometimes slow to recognize true merit, and they cannot be blamed, for so many have been humbugged in the past. The experience of hundreds of Santa Ana residents, expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources, places Doan's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation here.

E. O. McKinney, 824 E. Third street, Santa Ana, Calif., says: "For over a year I suffered from pains in my sides and it seemed as if a knife were being thrust into me. I thought that the trouble was caused by heavy lifting, but I was unable to get relief. Acting on the suggestion of a party who had used Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Dean's Drug Store. Finding relief from their use, I continued taking them and it was not long before the pain had ceased. The passages of the kidney secretions were also regulated and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition."

AT THE COURT HOUSE

DID NOT LIKE MEAT MARKET

Woman Wants Court to Rescind Trade—Alleges Many Misrepresentations

Alleging that a meat market for which she traded was misrepresented to her, Annie R. Smith today filed an answer in the suit brought against her by W. D. Dunbar. Dunbar sued for a consideration of $5000, attempting to compel the woman to carry out a trade of real estate for the meat market that Dunbar had owned.

In her answer the woman states that Dunbar represented that the market was worth $5000 and was paying $350 a week; that when the woman visited it she found a new meat cutter, a new bicycle, and a quantity of lard and wrapping paper. When she took possession she found the meat cutter and bicycle had been replaced with old articles, and the quantity of lard and wrapping paper was much reduced. Instead of being a paying shop, she found it unable to pay expenses.

The woman asks the court to order the trade rescinded.

Demurrer Filed

A demurrer was filed today in the suit of Robert McFadden against the Board of Supervisors, the county clerk and county auditor, to restrain the issuance of the $200,000 polytechnic high school bonds. Attorneys Williams & Rutan, City Attorney Heathman and District Attorney West are attorneys for the defendants. The demurrer alleges that the complaint is ambiguous, uncertain, and unintelligible, that it does not state facts enough to constitute a cause of action and that the plaintiff has not the legal capacity to sue.

Final Decrees Given

Final decrees of divorce granted today were to Wilhelm Hein against Bertha Hein, and to Frances A. King against Alexander A. King. Mrs. King was awarded the custody of three minor children.

BREAKS A COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

Says Quinine Isn't Effective in the Cure of Colds and Grippe

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end grippe so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

The most miserable headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

BENEFIT ON CARD

FOR OLINDA MAN

Olinda Derrick: Saturday night there will be a benefit dance at the Social Hall, which promises to have the biggest attendance of the season from all over the field. There will be the usual excellent music by the Prof. Isbell orchestra and the usual high class management of Mr. Flynn on the floor, which always assures a pleasant evening for everybody.

The occasion of the benefit is to raise a fund for the aid of Mr. Gale, who lost all the personal belongings of himself and family in the fire which destroyed his home on Sunday morning. A benefit for the same purpose will also be conducted in Anaheim at the Moose Boosters' Carnival on Friday night, which has been made Oil Field Night, and all oil field people are invited to go down. They are assured of a good welcome and of an evening of lively entertainment at the carnival shows in the opera house.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

QUESTION OF HOURS IS UP

Woman Has Jury to Determine Whether or Not She Broke the Law

Mrs. Sadie Babbitt of Olinda is on trial today in Justice Cox's court on a charge of requiring two waitresses in her employ to work more than eight hours in one working day. The woman runs a boarding house for the Union Oil Co. at Olinda. The complaint was sworn to by John J. Tobin, said to be a state labor inspector. The names of the waitresses are Muriel Miller and Ida Kupsch, and the day upon which the long day's work is alleged to have been done was Jan. 26. Attorneys H. C. Head and E. J. Marks represent Mrs. Babbitt. The defense is evidently making a distinction between a restaurant and hotel as designated in the law and a boarding-house, such as Mrs. Babbitt has charge of.

The first witness was Miss Kupsch. She said she commenced work at 5:30 o'clock and was on duty until 1:30 that afternoon, with but twenty minutes off. She went to work again at 5 o'clock that afternoon and worked until 8 o'clock. She said those were the usual hours.

That would make ten hours and forty minutes work for one day.

On the jury are E. Arnold, B. F. Hennacy, G. C. Baker, Guy Cunningham, Silas Wright, George Nay, William Wilkinson, R. Williams, Ed. Scott, H. H. Beemer and J. L. Sakeld. The prosecution is backed by the State Bureau of Labor Statistics, Deputy Commissioner J. J. Tobin of Los Angeles and his special agent, William Telle, are here today. Telle will testify that he went to the place as a transient and got a meal and paid for it.

The defense takes the position that Mrs. Babbitt is employed by the Union Oil Co., which makes the dining-room rules.

Trial Is Set

The trial of Manuel Lopez of Tustin, charged with stealing $20 from beneath Refugio Galan's pillow, was set for March 1.

CHILD INJURED ON PLAYGROUND ROOSEVELT SCHOOL

A painful accident occurred yesterday on the playground of the Roosevelt school, when Ethel Wilhelm, the eight-year-old daughter of John C. Wilhelm, of 808 East Second street, fell while playing with schoolmates at recess time, and injured her arm. The child was seriously hurt, but when it became apparent she was in need of medical attention, she was taken to Dr. Wehrly's office, where it was found she had suffered a fracture and dislocation of the arm.

She is reported as resting easily today.

MAD DOG SCARE AT UNPLEASANT STAGE

Olinda Derrick: The mad dog scare of last week was augmented on Monday of this week when a dog frothing at the mouth ran snapping and snarling through Olinda. So far as know the animal bit no one. The fear is that it was bitten by the dog which was killed last week and which it is believed was afflicted with hydrophobia. If such happens to have been the case there is the possibility that other dogs in the neighborhood were also bitten and that hydrophobia cases may be turning up every now and then for a while in unexpected quarters. For which reason the canine population is under close observation. It is as well in this connection to call attention to the fact that the best medical advice of the day counsels that the animal exhibiting signs of hydrophobia or thought to have been bitten by a mad dog, be fastened up securely for a period of at least two weeks and kept under observation during that time. By taking this course it can be absolutely determined upon killing the animal whether it was or was not afflicted with the dread trouble. If killed before there has been time for development of the germs in its brain cells, examination cannot give positive results. If permitted to live until there has been time for development, delicate equipment that has been installed at the Anaheim Sanitarium will tell to a certainty whether the hydrophobia germs exist and thus determine the need of anti-toxin treatment by any person who may have been bitten by the dog.

In the case of the animal that ran through the town on Monday, it was followed into La Habra valley by Marcus Andrade on horseback and finally run down and killed. At the time it was frothing at the mouth and prepared to attack the horse and rider. All the indications pointed to hydrophobia. After severing the head of the animal, Mr. Andrade forwarded that portion of its body for medical examination.

Bee Inspector Pleasants Points Out How Foul Brood Can be Kept Down

Co-operation of Supervisors and Apiarists Benefits the Honey Industry

A number of Orange county bee-men attended the State Beekeepers' Association convention that closed in Los Angeles yesterday. County Bee Inspector J. E. Pleasants of Silverado, R. K. Bishop of Orange and Frank True of Santa Ana were among the speakers. The report of the county bee inspector is interesting. It shows that there are 10,000 stands of bees in this county, and nearly 100 persons engaged in keeping bees. That report follows:

"In making my report to this convention, I will say that the health and general condition of the bees of Orange county were, at the close of the inspecting season, good; yes, very good. During the past year I inspected between 7000 and 8000 colonies. In this number I found fifty-three infected with American foul brood. That is less than one per cent of the bees diseased. When I started in nine years ago, about fifteen per cent of them were diseased. So I believe we can safely say we have made some headway in controlling American foul brood. I am confident that where the beekeepers and inspector work together they can keep American foul brood under control, and that is about all we can hope for, as there are always some infected bees in trees and buildings that cannot be reached.

"There are about 10,000 colonies of bees in Orange county, and almost 100 persons engaged in bee-keeping. About fifty of these are members of our county club.

"Through the influence of the club the Board of Supervisors passed an ordinance giving greater protection to the bee-keeper's interests than the state law gives in regard to moving bees. This gives the inspector more power, as the ordinance forbids bees being moved into the county without notifying the inspector. In this way infected bees can be kept out to a great extent. I believe this ordinance would be a good thing for all the counties, as 'an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure.' So far I have not seen a case of European foul brood in the county.

"The supervisors of Orange county have assisted the inspector in his work in every way possible, and the cheerful co-operation of the beekeepers makes the work a pleasure."

Bee Inspector Pleasants stated this morning that the apiarists are anxious for rain. The valley apiarists can get along without feeding, should the year be a dry one, but the mountain apiarists would have to feed their bees. However, it is not too late for a good season. Rain only is needed to start the season right.

SELF-GOVERNMENT AT MCKINLEY SCHOOL A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

Election Held Yesterday Marked End of Period of Four Months Trial That Proved System's Worth

With an election yesterday the McKinley school of this city ended a period of four months experiment picked up a conversation between the self-government of pupils. Self-government is no longer an experiment in that school. It is a proven success.

Four months ago Principal R. C. MacDonald and the teachers concluded that the plan of making the children responsible for conduct and the care of the school grounds and buildings was well worth trying. The children were anxious and willing to try the plan.

A constitution, by-laws and rules and regulations were adopted. The name adopted was the Students' Self Government Committee of McKinley School, Santa Ana, Cal.

The objects as stated in the constitution are:

"To control the discipline of the school; to receive complaints from both the teachers and pupils and pass sentence on the offenders; to refer extraordinary cases of misconduct to the principal."

The committee consists of one member from each room. The name of the five higher-grade committeemen are: Eighth grade, Edith Burson; seventh, Helen Teel; sixth, Edith De Bord; fifth, Russell Johnson; fourth, Beatrice Vegely.

Yesterday's election was held according to the strict rules governing the Australian system. Ballots that were not marked properly were thrown out, and because many of the voters are but 6 and 7 years of age, a good many ballots had to be thrown out. The election was preceded by primaries, and the two who came out ahead in the primaries went up for the election. The entire school voted on the three officers chosen, and the vote was as follows:

President—Homer Edwards, 100; Ruth Burson, 96.

Vice President—Ruth Holmes, 125; Arthur Summers, 71.

Secretary—Huntzberger, 105; Julia Pavich, 89.

These officers are all chosen from the eighth grade. The chairmen of the various rooms select the various committees, among the chairmen of which are: Yard committee, Ruth Burson; executive, Julia Pavich; line, Kathleen Montgomery; garden, Remus Pippis.

The children carry out their self-government control by means of the committees. A chairman is held responsible for keeping a wash-room in order, to see that the sanitary towels are not wasted and that the remnants are thrown into a box. Should any pupil be wasteful or careless, the committeeman gives warning. Offenses worth while are reported to the self government committee and the punishment for the offense is determined by the committee and not by the teachers. The children submit to the punishment without question. Sentences consist of time after classes. The clerks in charge of those serving sentences are called time serving clerks.

Pupils marching out of the classes and into the classes are in charge of committees. They see that there is no crowding and no misconduct in lines.

For five minutes after the pupils march into the classrooms, the pupils have full charge. If the teacher is detained somewhere the room chairman takes charge and conducts the class in study or recitation. Behavior under the direction of the pupils is just as good as when the teachers are present.

Teachers of McKinley school do not have to be guardians of behavior on the school grounds. The pupils attend to all of that. If a quarrel starts, either a committeeman or some other pupil steps in and stops it. McKinley school has no fights on the grounds. With responsibility thus placed, everybody takes an interest in keeping the rules, and to the credit of the committeemen it must be said that they are fair and square and not disposed to be officious.

As an instance of the control of the pupils of themselves, Principal MacDonald called attention to the fact that on Monday and Tuesday of this week the teacher of the fourth grade was ill. Did McKinley School have to call a substitute? No, indeed. Miss Ruth Burson and Miss Della Ramsey of the eighth grade took charge and for two days they conducted the classes, and the principal, who exerted general supervision only, says that it was done to perfection.

"How has self-government worked out?" was asked of Principal MacDonald. "Are you satisfied with it?"

"It has worked out better than anyone of us could have hoped," was his reply. "The pupils are intensely interested in it, and they see that things are done right. We have less trouble among the pupils than ever before. I might almost say that we have no trouble. Only the extreme cases come to the attention of the teachers and principal. The committeemen are uniformly fair and honorable. The teachers do not have to be on the grounds to see that the children behave themselves. The children attend to all of that. Absences, tardiness, excuses, permits to leave the ground—all those things are attended to by the self-governing body."

"It works out well in many ways. It has greatly improved the conduct of the children during school hours. They get it into their minds that they are on their honor to behave, and that helps wonderfully."

"It works out well on the playgrounds in that the teachers have time to coach the children in their games and help them in their play."

MASSACHUSETTS BALLOT PLAN PRAISED AS MODEL METHOD

Empire State Political Leaders Say More Voters Register and Vote Under This Than by Old System

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Great interest is being taken in the efforts now being made to have the state adopt the Massachusetts ballot. The agitation for electoral reform was started by Governor Hughes, but the movement became sidetracked. Now the necessity for a change in the system of voting is being pointed out by Assemblyman Charles A. Dana and Senator John Godfrey Saxe, who have introduced identical bills providing for the Massachusetts ballot with a few minor amendments. The leaders in the fight are from widely divergent political schools—Dana being the leader of the New York Progressive Republicans, while Saxe is one of the legal lights of Tammany Hall.

On the Massachusetts ballot the names of the candidates appear in alphabetical order under the titles of the respective offices. The circles are done away with and the only way a man can vote a straight ticket is to place a cross before the name of each of the nominees of his party. Candidates are also forbidden to have their names printed more than once. In speaking of the advantages of the Massachusetts system today, Senator Saxe said: "Some time ago I submitted to over two hundred persons, including political leaders, lawyers and election law experts, four sample ballots marked in different ways. I asked each one of them to state how each of the four ballots should be counted. The only one who answered correctly as to all four ballots was John T. Doelling, who was at that time president of the New York City board of elections. Quite a number answered correctly as to three of the four sample ballots, but the vast majority were not more than fifty per cent right."

"Opponents of the Massachusetts ballot say that it will disfranchise

the illiterate voters. They do not even admit that the Saxe-Dana bill obviates this alleged difficulty by providing for the printing of a miniature party emblem on the same line with the name of each candidate. In Massachusetts, however, no party emblems whatever are used. The following testimony was given to the senate judiciary committee last year by Richard H. Dana of Boston, known as the "Father of the Massachusetts ballot":

"To begin with, in Massachusetts fifty-six in every one hundred inhabitants are either foreign born or children of foreign born, while the state stands twenty-third among the states of the Union in the proportion of its illiterates. There is a reading and writing qualification for voting, but the tests consist in reading five lines of the state constitution and in writing one's name. Manual laborers mark their ballots without trouble and each office gets separate consideration. In fact, it is an illuminating coincidence that the Massachusetts ballot has operated with unusual satisfaction in the laboring districts. A large proportion of the registered voters vote and a larger proportion of the possible voters get registered than under the old party column ballot."

"In Massachusetts this form of ballot is very popular. While there have been many changes in the law governing primaries, caucuses and conventions, there have been no essential changes in the ballot law since its enactment in 1888. Perhaps the best evidence of its popularity is that the towns (which have to use the system for state elections but are free to use it or any other system they like for their own elections) all but eighty-six small towns out of two hundred and thirty-one, small and large, have voluntarily adopted the Massachusetts system of voting."

THE AUBURN

Automobile represents what has been the motto of its manufacturers from the beginning:

"THE MOST AUTO FOR THE MOST MONEY"

THE MOTOR INDUSTRY HAS SETTLED DOWN TO A COMPETITIVE BASIS. TODAY THE AUBURN AUTOMOBILE COMPANY MAKES POSITIVELY THE FINEST OFFER EVER MADE THE PUBLIC IN THE LINE OF A SPLENDID MOTOR CAR AT A REASONABLE PRICE. THERE IS A TREMENDOUS DIFFERENCE IN THE LOOKS OF MOTOR CARS, BUT THE REAL DIFFERENCE IS NOT IN THE LOOKS BUT IN THE CONSTRUCTION. THE DESIGN, THE MATERIALS USED, THE FINISH OF THE HIDDEN PARTS IS WHAT COUNTS. AUBURN CARS ARE AS ELEGANT IN POINT OF APPEARANCE AS ANY MADE, REGARDLESS OF PRICE, BUT AUBURN CARS ARE MORE THAN THAT, THEY HAVE UNDERNEATH THEIR EXTERNAL APPEARANCE THE CAREFUL, PAINSTAKING, HONEST DETERMINATION OF THE MAKERS TO CREATE A CAR OF ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION AND ABSOLUTE MERIT; A CAR FINISHED WITH THE MOST SCRUPULOUS CARE DOWN TO THE LAST BOLT. THAT IS THE SECRET OF AUBURN SUCCESS. IT IS NOT AN INFLATED REPUTATION, NOR IS IT NOTORIETY THAT WE SEEK. THE AUBURN POPULARITY IS BASED SOLELY ON MERIT, AND THAT MERIT LIES BENEATH THE PAINT AND UPHOLSTERY WHICH SO FREQUENTLY DISGUISES THE MEREST SHAM.

WE CALL ESPECIAL ATTENTION TO THREE OF THE AUBURN MODELS, ON WHICH WE ARE PREPARED TO MAKE IMMEDIATE DELIVERIES:

THE REAL VALUE OF THE

Is not adequately expressed by its price.

If you are familiar with motor car conditions you know that the Cadillac is practically outside the zone of competition.

Almost everybody is Cadillac-convinced—almost everybody concedes its unique reputation.

But have you realized the full and splendid extent of that reputation?

It was brought home to us (for the thousandth time) in a new way, the other day, when we banteringly asked one of the most prominent dealers in the Cadillac organization:

"Don't your customers ever speak of other cars in comparison with the Cadillac?"

And he answered in all seriousness: "Only those of the very highest price—and then not in disparagement of the Cadillac."

Conditions in this locality will confirm this.

Intensified by the luxury of the system which performs the triple function of starting, lighting and igniting, the PERFECTEDNESS of the Cadillac has reached a point which is not adequately expressed by the money cost of the car in comparison with existing price standards.

R. R. COMMISSION IS BACKED BY U. S. COURT

Judge Van Fleet Signs Order for Low Rates Between San Pedro, Los Angeles

Los Angeles Examiner: A new era in the history of the state railroad commission was opened by Judge Van Fleet yesterday when he signed a decision in San Francisco, the first handed down in favor of the commission since 1879, upholding the order compelling the Southern Pacific Company to establish lower rates between San Pedro and Los Angeles.

The commission's order went into effect December 7, 1911, and by a stipulation in the application made by the Southern Pacific to the United States District court for an injunction, the railroad company must refund to shippers over its line between San Pedro and Los Angeles, a sum of nearly $20,000, being the difference between the old and new rates during the time since the order went into effect.

According to Max Thelen, attorney for the railroad commission, three important precedents were established in favor of the commission by the decision, in the setting aside of the three chief arguments used by railroads in combating an order of the commission.

These claims were that the commission's order amounted to a confiscation of property; that it worked an interference with interstate commerce and that it denied the plaintiffs the equal protection of the laws.

Another interesting point is the speed with which the case was disposed of. The complaint was filed, and a temporary restraining order issued December 6. On December 11 the commission appeared in court, filed its demurrer and argued the case. Only two months after the complaint was filed the decision was rendered.

While only the Southern Pacific is directly affected, it is understood that the Santa Fe and Salt Lake roads must meet the new schedule of rates, on account of competition, and that Redondo Beach and San Pedro will be put on an equal basis of rates to Los Angeles.

In all the saving to shippers between nearby ports and Los Angeles will amount to more than $200,000 yearly, and, with increased commerce, will become much larger.

GOING TO STUDY THE ORANGE TREE

Los Angeles Times: Representatives of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, are expected, soon in this city to co-operate with the Citrus Protective League and the Agricultural Department of the University of California in an elaborate investigation of the principles underlying the nutrition of the orange tree. The researches will continue for a period of three or four months in several parts of Southern California.

The object of the study is to increase the productiveness and general health of both the orange and lemon groves. The California groves are in excellent condition, but the Citrus Protective League seeks to make them even better.

It is stated that the nutritive functions of the various parts of the orange tree are not as well known as those of other flora. California growers are not satisfied with the explanations which come from Washington. Hence the announcement just received from the department that at least three plant experts will be sent to California soon.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The moderate January business in dried fruit on the local market continues steady with very little if any change in quotations noted. There is perhaps a slightly firmer feeling in choice apples and that grade is getting scarce. There is no change in the situation as regards apricots or peaches. Pears are in rather marked inquiry from outside points. Indications as to the coming season's crop promise well in many sections. Prunes are rather well held but are not showing a great deal of activity at present. The tendency of the market is to advance until the arrivals of new stock.

No new interest was noted in the raisin situation during the past week or two. Values remain as quoted. There is being concentrated more attention on Sultaninas and Sultanas. For four consecutive days no bean arrivals were reported in. No apprehension is felt in this market as there is sufficient stock held in good hands. The market was characterized as firm generally. Pink beans showed an advance in a jobbing way of 10 cents. Both Lady Washingtons and white beans were in good demand at quoted figures.

The poultry market was inclined to drag. The demand was for fat hens, which are very scarce, due to the continued dry weather and the high price of feed. Considerable stock is finding its way in on the market from the East, but poultry is half-starved and the condition of local stock is not much better. Dealers are selling their holdings in order to keep a movement. Live turkeys were in liberal receipt but they are attracting little attention at this season.

Heavy receipts of fresh eggs for the past few days has weakened the market. Yesterday the market declined 1 cent on both candled selects and case-counts. The former was quoted at 30 cents and case-counts at 26 cents per dozen. No change was noted in pullets' eggs or storage stock; the latter were held at 25 cents. Receipts were 719 cases. The butter market was firm generally. Laid butter was in heavy demand at 25 cents per pound. Arrivals were 37,907 pounds.

The market on all varieties of cheese was firm. There were no large sales reported. Eastern cheese was best in call. Receipts were 261 pounds. The market on fancy potatoes was firm. Considerable stock which has been held for some time moved out at minimum prices. Highlands made up the bulk of the arrivals and moved out at the outside range of prices. Receipts were 3062 sacks. The onion market was firm at the old range of prices. There was a good demand for fancy stock. White wax onions were scarce and the stock moved out at $3.50 a hundred-weight. Arrivals were 307 sacks. The arrivals of sweet potatoes were of such quality that they attracted little attention from prospective buyers. The market showed a decline of 25 cents a hundred-weight. The stock sold on the street at $2.50 for the very best. Arrivals were fifty-two sacks.

A Few Words of Advice That Will Benefit Every Candidate During The Last Days of the BIG TRIPLE VOTE OFFER

Eight more days and the Register's big TRIPLE VOTE OFFER will close, the candidates will skirmish every nook and corner of the county as far as they are able in a terrific race against "Father Time."

This is the all important factor which comforts the eager candidates and although the contest department has had several requests from competing contestants to extend the time limit on the TRIPLE VOTE OFFER, these requests have been denied, those candidates who have neglected to make use of every hour of the time since the announcement of this offer will have to content themselves by working a little harder during the remaining days of the contest, after the TRIPLE VOTE season is over. The reason for not extending this offer is the result of our pledge to the candidates, which was printed in the Register at the announcement of this offer on February the 5th and which reads as follows: "The Register will never, during the life of this contest, give a better offer than triple votes NOR WILL IT EXTEND THE PERIOD OF TIME OF ANY SPECIAL VOTE OFFER; neither will it repeat any offer, nor give a better offer than any previous inducement."

We regret that we cannot satisfy all the candidates in this regard but the statement is absolute and final, and the TRIPLE VOTE OFFER will be plunged into darkness after Saturday night February the 17th.

The TRIPLE VOTE OFFER has but 8 days more to live, it has been advertised since Saturday night, Feb. 3rd, and the public at large wherever the news of this contest is spread, realize as well as the candidates themselves, that NOW is the time for all of them to subscribe, and if you will put in the next seven days with a never-let-up spirit you'll find yourselves the recipients of as many votes as though the public was informed that the offer was to be extended another week and could put off giving you their subscriptions for another four or five days.

Tomorrow is Saturday and a good day to get ready and pull yourself together for the final spurt of the triple vote season.

Sit down today with a pencil in your hand and put down the name of every living soul that you can think of whom you believe would be a possible subscriber. If you do this you will put down every name that you can call to mind.

Every name you think of should be counted as a subscriber, as no prospective subscriber is impossible until you are sure of it by personal conversation.

And put these names down systematically in routine order, according to the addresses at which they live. Then you will not lose time in skipping back and forth.

GRAND CAPITAL PRIZE

This beautiful E-M-F Touring Car, value $1450.00, to be awarded the candidate in the Register's contest who receives the greatest number of votes.

Candidates living outside the city of Santa Ana will be allowed to place subscriptions for triple votes in their respective postoffices any time Saturday, February the 17th, but in order to receive triple votes so placed in the mail, the postoffice mark must bear witness that such mail was placed in the postoffice for delivery to the contest department of the Register on Saturday, February the 17th.

RE-DOUBLE YOUR EFFORTS

Make up your mind to give your undivided attention to the contest for these seven days at least. Don't let anyone pass you by without talking contest to them. They have all read the Register, they all know you are a candidate and that you want the $1450.00 E-M-F Touring Car, and the first thing they expect to hear from you is CONTEST. If you are indifferent about it and don't speak up they'll tell the next person they meet that "I just met Miss or Mrs. —. I thought she was going to get the Register's big prize, but I guess she has given it up."

This may sound far fetched, but it is a fact that many people have so expressed themselves in regard to some of our most energetic candidates.

Keep your candidacy before everyone you meet and make them feel that you are confident of victory. If you meet twenty-five people a day, don't let the twenty-fifth person get away without getting just as much contest conversation from you as the rest. If you don't get a subscription from him, you'll get his promise of one or you will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that when he talks about the contest to someone else he will say you "Look like a winner" instead of one who has "given it up."

One little circumstance after another soon forms a chain of evidence that either acquits or convicts.

If you tell every one you meet that YOU ARE GOING TO WIN, they will have to, under the circumstances form their opinion that way and it will soon be the general opinion of the public at large and if there are any stray votes coming into the contest department the subscriber having the stray vote will poll them FOR YOU.

If you say nothing you'll get nothing.
